MORE BOMBINGS THREATENED IN CHICAGO TODAY

Snow Prevented Blast
in Produce Store:
Workers Slain

BULLETIN

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—A huge dynamite bomb, consisting of sixteen eight inch sticks of dynamite wrapped in black tape, was extinguished by a heavy snowfall today after it had been placed at the entrance of a South Water Street produce building.

Officials of S. & H. Levy Company, occupants, were unable to explain the presence of the bomb, the fuse of which was charred, showing it had been lighted and then put out by the damp snow. A block of cement had been used to weight down the bomb.

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—More threats of bombings, more bullets, more pleas for federal protection at the April 10 primary polls peppered politics in Chicago today.

United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, an appointee of Senator Deneen, was warned in an anonymous telephone call that he had been marked for a bomb. A report that a political meeting of Circuit Judge Swanson was to be broken up by bombs spread alarm and then blew up of its own momentum, the meeting being held without incident.

William Beatty, a municipal court bailiff, who has been a ward worker for the anti-Deneen forces headed by Mayor Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe, was shot and seriously wounded by one of a dozen federal agents who raided a saloon on State Street, near 67th.

Man Shot and Burned.

The torch was added to the Chicago killer's repertoire when a man, whose name is believed to have been Marchese, was shot down and then burned after gasoline had been poured over the body. A card in the man's purse carried the name Paul Marchese. That is the family name of the widow of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Deneen worker, slain nine days ago.

From Washington came word that Attorney General Sargent had received the request of United States Marshal Palmer, Anderson, for authority to deputize additional marshals primary election day, and that he would study the facts before making a decision.

The slaying of Marchese and the shooting of Beatty, the bailiff, were not given any direct connection with the troublesome political situation created by the conflict between the Deneen and Thompson-Crowe factions. The name Marchese suggested the "Diamond Joe" slaying and thus a political connection through "Diamond Joe's" friendship for Senator Deneen.

Deneen Arrives.

Mayor Thompson, informed of the effort to bring federal officers into the city for election day, said he had no objection "if those marshals are sent to uphold the law."

Senator Deneen came from Washington yesterday and took charge of the campaign for the faction under his banner. Judge Swanson, candidate for State's Attorney and a victim with Senator Deneen of bombers Monday, said he would continue his campaign despite renewed threats. Judge Swanson's sympathizers were obliged to guarantee an Elmwood Park church against bomb damage last night after several insurance companies had refused. The church was the one in which Judge Swanson spoke and which it had been reported, was to be bombed of the meeting was held.

State's Attorney Crowe, in a chain broadcast address, declared that crime is decreasing in Chicago.

Calls Work Coward

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Secretary Work was assailed as a "coward" in the Senate today by Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, for what the Arkansas described as treatment accorded by Mr. Work recently to Col. Clyde F. Estes of the staff of Governor Moody of Texas.

"I will waive any senatorial privileges," Caraway declared. "If I have any, if the Secretary of the Interior wants to answer me anywhere or any time."

Senator Caraway said that Col. Estes, a wounded World War veteran, had come to Washington representing Governor Moody and the Chambers of Commerce of Texas in behalf of a national park for Arkansas. He said that Estes brought with him a letter to Secretary Hoover from Hoover's campaign manager in Texas, and that after a visit with Hoover, he was sent to the office of Secretary Work, who spoke to him "very abruptly."

Smith Will Qualify

Pierre, S. D., March 30—(AP)—Governor E. Smith of New York today filed with South Dakota's Secretary of State a formal declaration that he will qualify if nominated and elected President on the democratic ticket.

Earl Howell of St. Louis, who will be pro at the Dixon Country Club, this year arrived in Dixon Tuesday.

TWO AMERICANS BREAK RECORDS FOR ENDURANCE

Stinson and Haldeman
Kept Plane in the Air 53 Hours

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., March 30—(AP)—George Haldeman and Eddie Stinson set a new world's record airplane endurance flight today of 53 hours and 36 minutes.

They landed at 1:14:10 p. m. Eastern standard time after breaking by an hour and 14 minutes and 10 seconds, the German mark made last August.

The flyers landed a mile from where they took off and taxied south to the spot they left Wednesday morning. They still had gasoline in the tanks, as the motor was still running.

NEW SPEED RECORD

London, March 30—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Venice says that Major Mario de Bernardi, the Italian aviator, established a new world's speed record this afternoon, flying at the rate of 318 1/2 miles per hour.

Doubt Lone Eagle Will Try Pacific

BULLETIN

Washington, March 30—(AP)—The latest reports among close friends of Col. Lindbergh here have it that the flyer will make a round-the-world trip in a Ford plane but will span the Atlantic and Pacific by boat.

Some of his associates in the Capital say they have well grounded information that the trip will be made this spring and that Lindbergh will be accompanied by Major Thomas G. Lanphier, Flight Commander at Selfridge Field, Michigan.

St. Louis, March 30—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's home town speculated today on reports that he might essay a flight across the Pacific Ocean to Tokyo. Although he announced no plans when he arrived yesterday from Lexington, Ky., the rumor spread that he would try the trans-Pacific hop. His closest friends, however, doubted the reports.

Major William B. Robertson, one of Lindbergh's backers, and a close friend, when asked if he knew of any plans on the part of the flyer to attempt the Tokyo flight, said he doubted it very much. He said he had no recollection of Lindbergh ever mentioning a flight to Japan, or even so much as contemplating it, and Major Robertson said he felt convinced it is not being considered.

Col. Lindbergh spent the night at the home of Harry H. Knight, another backer. He refused to be interviewed and kept his movements secret.

Road Bonds Carried

Galesburg, Ill., March 30—(AP)—A tax increase of $5,000, to buy a right of way for route 80, has been voted by residents of Rio township at a special election. Rio is the first township in this district to assure itself of a hard road by the tax route. The action will increase taxes about 12 per cent for a year.

MANY MINES IN STATE TO SHUT DOWN APRIL 1st

Operators and Miners Fail to Agree on Wage
Scales

BULLETIN

St. Louis, March 30—(AP)—Few of the 400 coal mines of Illinois will be operating after Sunday, with prospects that, of these, many will not continue long after that time, W. J. Jenkins, newly elected president of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, predicted today upon return from the southern Illinois coal field. Jenkins pointed out that mining companies, which are members of the operators' association, may use their own judgment in reaching a decision as to whether they shall pay the Jacksonville wage scale of $5.50 a day for day labor and $4.93 for tonnage, but said, "I don't know how the mine owners would be able to operate on this basis for an extended period."

Conditions Chaotic

"The entire industry is in a chaotic condition," Jenkins said. "We have been forced to sit back and watch the mining companies of western Kentucky, particularly, come right into our field and take our business away from us. The wages they pay are an average of 40 percent lower than we have been forced to pay in Illinois and they can sell their coal here cheaper than we can, even when the longer freight haul is considered."

"I don't know how the situation is going to work out. I do know this, that we can't go on paying exorbitant wages and we will maintain our stand that we will arbitrate the matter of wages at any time with the union. We have even told them we will pay 50 percent more than what ever the nonunion wage scale is at the time we arbitrate but the offer has never been received favorably."

"We will stand or fall by our attitude, which we think is fair. We can't go on this way, losing money, instead of making a profit on our operations."

Jenkins expressed the hope the miners would modify their demands before the meeting of the executive committee of the operators' association, called for April 5 in Chicago.

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—April 1, anniversary of the general shut-down in union bituminous coal fields, apparently will be celebrated this year with many Illinois miners again idle.

Following the breakdown of negotiations between operators and miners officials in Chicago, various reports came from all sections of the state. Many large operators announced orders have been posted for employees to prepare for the closing of the mines. From Belleville, miners' officials reported that twelve mines there would remain open. The miners' union at Springfield announced nine mines, three in Danville, one in Cuba, three in Edwardsville and one in Carlinville, would continue operations under the Jacksonville wage scale.

Iowa Mines to Work.

J. H. Morris, president of the miners' union in Iowa, said most of the mines in that state would remain open. From union fields in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas came reports that mines would be shut down and 8,000 men would be idle. Indiana reported no change in the situation, most of the mines having been idle since last year.

The miners have insisted they cannot agree to work for a lower wage than that called for in the Jacksonville agreement. This is $7.50 a day or 1.08 per ton. Illinois operators insisted they could not pay this scale and offered $6 per day or 84 cents for tonnage.

One Day of Hope.

That the situation is not hopeless was indicated by a call for a meeting of the Illinois Operators' executive committee here April 5. W. J. Jenkins, president, said he hoped that the miners might modify their demands before this meeting. Members of the miners' organization are now free to make individual contracts with the unions, but miners' representatives were firm in their stand that they would not accept a lower wage than the Jacksonville scale and that they would not arbitrate.

Harry Fishwick, president of the United Mine Workers of America, District 12, denied claims of a total shut-down in Illinois.

Jenkins, owner of the Consolidated Coal Company announced the closing of company mines in Johnson City and Herrin.

In West Frankfort, the mines of the Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin Company, the Brewerton mines and two Peabody Coal Company mines will close, as will Peabody mines in Kincaid, Taylorville and Springfield. The Peabody Company controls 24 mines in the state, of which all but eight were closed previously. They employed about 6,000 men.

It was estimated that about 15,000 miners would be thrown out of work in Franklin County. Reports said that scores of men were leaving their homes to seek employment elsewhere.

Miss Marion Ahrens of the Mellett Furniture Co. is confined to her home with the flu.

SPORTSWOMAN. EXPLORER NOW HELD IN CELL

Mrs. Esther Wilson
Charged With Attempted Murder

New York, March 30—(AP)—Mrs. Esther Wilson, Arctic explorer and big game hunter, was held today on a charge of felonious assault after shooting and seriously wounding her estranged husband, Dallett Wilson, New York attorney.

Mrs. Wilson, immediately after the shooting, told police she had called at her husband's office to demand a settlement of their marital difficulties.

"I wanted either to live together or be divorced," she said. "I offered to let him get the divorce, but he refused."

Mr. Wilson was wounded in the arm and in the back. Hospital doctors said the wounds were serious but that it was impossible to say whether he was in any great danger. He is 40 years old, his wife two years younger. They were married 16 years ago and separated six months ago. They have no children.

Mrs. Wilson came to New York from Washington Sunday and had been stopping at the Women's National Republican Club. Yesterday afternoon she went to her husband's office in the Heckscher Building on Fifth Avenue and was admitted to his private suite. At 6 o'clock two shots rang out. Associates ran into the room and found Mr. Wilson lying on the floor with his wife standing over him, a revolver in her hand.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Pascoello, who questioned her, said she appeared highly nervous. He believed her to be mentally unbalanced.

Asks Owners Oakwood Lots to Aid Program

Commissioner Louis Schumm, of whose department the management of Oakwood cemetery is an important item, has appealed to owners of lots in the cemetery to co-operate in improving the general appearance of the city's burial ground. To bring about the proposed improvement, every lot owner is requested to place the lot under either perpetual care or provide for annual maintenance in advance.

In outlining the program to improve the appearance of the cemetery, Commissioner Schumm today stated:

"Since taking over this department, I find that there are approximately 2,800 lots in Oakwood cemetery and of this number there are about 700 which are under either perpetual endowment or annual care. For the care of the remaining lots, I find, no provision has been made. By securing the operation of the lot owners in placing these plots of ground under either perpetual or annual care, the general appearance of the cemetery can be materially improved, and it is toward this end that we are now striving."

Commissioner Schumm has arranged for a liberal portion of his appropriation for this year to be used in the resurfacing of the roads throughout the cemetery which were treated with tarvin and pea gravel a few years ago.

International Air- Craft Show Planned

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—The first international aircraft exposition with exhibitors from all parts of the world will be held in Chicago, Dec. 1 to 9.

President Coolidge will be asked to open the show with a special radio message.

The exposition is planned to be the most complete and comprehensive in the history of aviation. It will precede the International Aviation Conference, called by President Coolidge, for Dec. 10 to 17 at Washington. Delegates to the conference are expected to attend the exposition first and to fly from here to Washington for the conference.

Two Thought Dead in Theater Blaze

Baltimore, March 30—(AP)—Two lives were believed to have been lost in a fire which started in the Arcade theater at Crisfield, Maryland, and wiped out the uptown business section of the town last night, a special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun says. Estimates of the loss caused by the destruction of more than a score of business buildings, including two theaters and a hotel, ranged from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Frank Morgan, a youth, was caught under falling walls and was reported to have died at the hospital. Another man was reported caught under falling debris.

The fire wrecked the Pine street section of the Pennsylvania railroad and destroyed a score of homes in the negro section of the town.

The local firemen, who were aided by fire fighters from six other towns, were hampered in their battle with the flames by the wind and a falling water supply.

Respite for Borer

Mrs. William J. McAlpine passed away very suddenly at her home, 204 Ottawa avenue yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, following an illness of about three years duration. Her condition for several days past had been considered serious, but the end came unexpectedly and as Mrs. McAlpine was walking from one room to another.

She was born in Janesville, Wis., September 27, 1861, and had been a resident of Dixon for the past 33 years. At the time of her death she was 67 years, six months and two days of age. In her passing, Dixon loses a woman of loving personality who will be greatly missed in the community. While of a quiet homecoming disposition, she enjoyed a wide acquaintance of admiring friends who are grief stricken at her sudden passing.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Fr. Richard H. Talbot, Jr., of St. Luke's Episcopal church will conduct the service, and interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

FALL FORCED TO REST OFTEN DURING EXAMINATION

The Aged Former Cabinet
Member Exhausted
After Sessions

BULLETIN

El Paso, Tex., March 30—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair accepted the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve with reluctance, after once rejecting it, associates said. Albert B. Fall testified today in giving his deposition to be used in the oil magnate's trial in Washington next week on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

"Here is your lease, Mr. Secretary. I am done with it," Fall was expected to quote Sinclair as saying.

El Paso, Tex., March 30—(AP)—Hoping to show that Harry F. Sinclair personally had nothing to do with the actual negotiations that led up to the leasing to him of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve by Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, counsel for Sinclair today expected to continue the examination of the former Cabinet member in the deposition they are taking to be used in Sinclair's trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Fall, anxious to get his story before the court, underwent two sessions of questioning yesterday. The first held in the afternoon was interrupted once because he became so exhausted that his physician, H. T. Safford, called a halt and let the former Cabinet officer rest for ten minutes.

In all he answered questions for two hours and at the session last night he withstood nearly an hour of questioning before his physician. After thirty minutes of the night session Dr. Safford ordered a halt and it was continued after his patient had rested a while.

In Ordinary Manner.

The examination had to do with the policy of the government inaugurated in 1920 of leasing oil lands to individuals and was expected to lead up to the leasing of Teapot Dome, which Mrs. Fall said her husband would say was done in ordinary course of business as conducted by the Interior department.

The conduct of these negotiations, Fall was expected to testify, was carried out by subordinates in his department and he would say, Mrs. Fall said, that the $233,000 in Liberty bonds received from Sinclair were for sale of the one third of the Tres Ritos Cattle Land Company and carried on entirely after the oil lease had been signed.

Done by Son-in-Law

Fall's testimony was expected to show that as far as he knew Sinclair himself did not carry on the negotiations for the Teapot Dome lease and that Fall did not know the details of the sale of one-third interest of the ranch holdings. The sale of the ranch holdings, Fall was expected to testify, was carried on by his son-in-law, M. T. Everhart, of Pueblo, Colo., who was manager of the Tres Ritos Cattle Land Company.

Everhart, however, testified before the Senate oil investigating committee that he went to Washington to see Fall about the sale of the third interest to Sinclair and found all details completed. He said that acting on Fall's instructions he went to New York when he received most of the purchase price from Sinclair and later received the balance of the $233,000 in Sinclair's private car in Washington.

Springfield, Ill., March 30—(AP)—Although his name cannot be taken from the official ballot Loren E. Wheeler of Springfield is not actively campaigning for the republican nomination for Congress from the 21st district composed of Sangamon, Christian, Montgomery and Macoupin counties. Illinois will prevent him from making the race he said.

REMUS WINNER IN FIGHT; DECLARED SANE BY COURTS

Decree Insures His Freedom from Insane Asylum

Lima, Ohio, March 30—(AP)—George Remus, former bootleg leader and wife slayer, won his fight for freedom from the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane today when the Third District Court of Appeals handed down a decision holding him sane.

The decision was rendered after the court had held under consideration for more than three weeks, the question of whether Remus was sane. The hearing on his application for release on a writ of habeas corpus opened on February 20 and continued about two weeks while alienists and Remus himself took their turns in the witness chair.

Remus' attorneys did not call him and the state demanded the reason. They were told that he was available to them if they wanted him and he was summoned then for cross examination. For three days he testified as to the most minute details of his life, adding about 150,000 words to the record of the hearing.

Killed Wife in 1927

Remus killed his wife, Imogene, as she was riding through a Cincinnati park the morning of October 6, 1927. He surrendered immediately and entered a plea of "temporary maniacal insanity."

Remus, an attorney, acted as one of his own defense counsel during his trial for murder. He testified he had been tortured by reports of his wife's alleged infidelity with Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., Lansing, Mich., a former department of justice agent, who was largely responsible for sending the former bootleg chieftain to the Atlanta penitentiary for violation of the liquor laws.

After trial of a month a jury returned a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" twenty minutes after it had been given the case.

The Hamilton County Probate Court adjudged him insane and committed him to the hospital. Remus immediately began another fight to secure his freedom, filing the habeas corpus action on the ground his commitment papers were faulty.

The court's decision that Remus was sane was not unanimous. President Judge Phil Crowl and Judge Kent Hughes concurred in the decision, while Judge Charles Justice voted against it.

Prosecutor Botkin has two days in which to sign or refuse to sign the journal entry which would free Remus.

He indicated he planned to fight the decision and instead of signing would ask for a stay of execution in order to carry the case to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Gale Keeps German Fliers in Ireland

Dublin, March 30—(AP)—A gale sweeping western Ireland and the Atlantic today caused Baron Ehrenfried Gunther Von Huenfeldt, flight sponsor, again to postpone the start of the plane "Bremen" for New York.

Sudden ground at Baldonnel air-drome after the rain of yesterday was regarded as making it impossible for the five ton machine to rise from its lengthy runway.

With no hope of immediate improvement in weather, however, it was probable that the "Bremen" would be delayed here several days longer.

While Baron Von Huenfeldt and his pilots, Captain Herman Koehl and Arthur Spindler, waited for a change of weather, mechanics used every minute of spare time to groom the plane. Its silvered duralumin all-metal body was coated with a secret anti-freeze preparation, which it was hoped would prevent sleet from forming and weighing the machine down.

Baron Von Huenfeldt went to Dublin and bought himself a new cologne, saying that he had not expected to stay in the neighborhood so long, but he felt he must make every effort to reach America in fresh linen.

Sees Barge Profits

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Major General Ashburn, head of the government Mississippi barge lines, predicted today that the lines would show a profit before the end of this year.

Testifying before the House Commerce committee, Representative William E. Hull of Illinois, another witness, declared that if the lines can be established on a well-developed basis, the system could be a joint private operators in 25 years at twice its present value.

General Ashburn and Hull testified during consideration of the Denison bill to extend the barge lines on the Mississippi river and its tributaries and to triple its present $5,000,000 capital.

LUNCH STAND BURNS

A small building owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lamarch east of Dixon on the Black Hawk Trail and used as a lunch stand, was completely destroyed by fire last night about 11 o'clock. The fire is believed to have started in the rear of the building and spread rapidly, having gained considerable headway before being discovered. Chief Coffey of the fire department sent several cans of chemicals to the burning building, which is just east of the city limits. In response to a telephone call for assistance, but the flames had gained such headway that the structure could not be saved. The origin of the fire was said this morning to be unknown.

TELEGRAPHER'S KEEN WIT TRAPS THREE ROBBERS

Code Signal Results in Arrests Over in Rochelle

Dots and dashes tapped out by an ingenious telegrapher who found himself trapped late Wednesday night in the Burlington station at Rochelle with three suspicious-looking characters has resulted in the trio being bound over to the Ogle county grand jury on charges of burglary after they had confessed robbing two Rochelle stores.

Northern Illinois police records contain few more melodramatic episodes than the capture of the three young burglars (they range in age from 15 to 23 years) and their confessions.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, A. G. Ringenbach, night operator at the Burlington station, gazed up from his work to see three roughly-dressed youths enter the waiting room. They strolled over to the ticket window and asked Ringenbach about trains east and west.

Will Inspect All Dams in California Los Angeles, March 29—(AP)—As the coroner's inquiry into the collapse of St. Francis dam entered its final stages today, investigation of the Mulholland dam above Hollywood, a "big brother" of the ill-starred structure, was begun and all other dams in California were under a faint trace of official suspicion.

Both the city of Los Angeles and the District Attorney's office announced that engineers and geologists would examine the Mulholland dam.

Bert B. Meek, State Director of Public Works, recommended to the Governor's council in Sacramento yesterday that an engineer be appointed to inspect all dams in California and report to the state.

Governor Young decided that the state's authority to make such an investigation and report its findings should be determined before launching the project.

In making the recommendation, Meek said he had no fear that any of the dams were unsafe, but felt that their stability should be officially noted.

A QUESTION

Eleanor B. Stock
If we could pick bouquets of stars,
And cut the clouds down too,
The way we pick and tie up flowers,
And cut the pine and yew.

I wonder, would we stay our hands,
Or just denude the sky,
And when the night grew blind and scorching,
Cry out, and ask God why?

Or would we leave some stars unpicked,
A cloud uncut to stand
A tree of white leaves, dropping rain
Upon our greed-burnt hand?

Mr. Truckenbrod visited the American Consulate at Munich, Germany, and found it was not an easy task to secure transportation, but if the young man and woman would go to a certain city and pass through the severe questioning and physical examination they would

Women Voters in London in Majority

London, March 30—(AP)—Having gained a second reading by an overwhelming majority, the "Flapper vote" bill today was considered likely to add 5,000,000 women between the ages of 21 and 30 to the electorate next March. Sir William Joyntonicks, Home Secretary, explaining the bill in the House of Commons said that women voters would then be in the majority by about 2,000,000.

Because of this the die-hards raised the specter of petticoat government. Brigadier General Sir George Cockerill, speaking in opposition to the measure which gives women the vote at the age of 21 instead of 30 as at present said the bill failed to follow the constitutional practice of accompanying an extension of the franchise with a measure for redistribution of representation.

This was characterized as a "swan song" by Lady Astor.

The Impressions of a Woman
Wearing a "Shagmoor" Top Coat for the First Time...

by
Mlle Antonia Charmante

I simply adore my handsome "Shagmoor"! I can wear it for almost every occasion and feel smartly dressed. I often go on long, dusty motor trips, and sometimes get caught in the rain, yet my "Shagmoor" shows hardly any evidence of dust, moisture or wrinkles.

I like particularly the following good points:

The fact that the fabric appears to be of the purest, choicest wool, and is exclusive with "Shagmoor"; the distinctiveness and refinement of the pattern design; the exquisite, delicate colour scheme; the perfect hug of the shoulder; the rolling, mannish lapels; the graceful, perfect-fitting silhouette; the most precise tailoring, which reminds me of the suits worn by the men in London; a certain charm which is typical of French models; and the unmistakable American practicality which results in enabling one to have at extremely small expense a Coat that looks expensive...

It is a pleasure to present... now

WHO PICKS OUR SENATORS?

At the primary election April 10, the voters of Illinois have an opportunity to decide whether they will have the right of franchise in the matter of United States Senator, or whether the United States Senate is to decide who we may send down to Washington to represent this state.

The Senate, in an arbitrary ruling, denied to Col. Frank L. Smith, the duly elected Senator from this state, the right to take his seat. They said that money used in the primary election came from questionable sources, namely, Samuel Insull, utility magnate. Mr. Insull, an opponent of the world court, did contribute a large sum to help defeat the late Senator McKinley, a world court advocate. Mr. Insull's utilities received no favors from Col. Smith's utilities commission.

Senator Reed, Democrat, saw a chance for political advantage and caused the investigation of the Smith campaign fund. The investigation brought out all the facts. And then, knowing all these facts, the voters of Illinois at a general election, elected Col. Smith and he was sent to Washington with full and proper credentials. But certain members of the Senate, notably the Democrats, decided that that pure and saintly body would be contaminated by the presence of Senator-elect Smith and they ruled him out of the club.

So Col. Smith, being what Americans call a "good sport" resigned as Senator-elect and is again before the voters for a new set of credentials for the Senate to peruse. If elected and sent back to the Senate that august body can find no objection to this election. There can be no question about campaign funds. They'll have to let him in and it should be an interesting spectacle when he is sworn in and on an equal footing with those prim gentlemen who voted to keep him out, many of whom have campaign fund records that had best lie in dark corners.

Illinois owes it to its own self respect to return Col. Smith to the senate. The rights of this state have been swept aside by the sanctimonious gesture of this so very pious senate. We can make them "eat crow" and retain our rights and strengthen the rights of all states by electing Col. Frank L. Smith. Frank Smith is an honorable, faithful and highly capable public servant. He has been one of the outstanding leaders in the Republican party in Illinois for many years and his character and ability are above reproach.

Call the senate's bluff and vote for Frank L. Smith.

VELMA WEST'S PLEA.

A lawyer who has his client plead guilty often serves the public in more ways than one.

Young Velma West was about to go on trial in Ohio the other day for killing her husband. She had skilled attorneys, and for weeks they had been planning her defense. There was the prospect of a long-drawn-out trial that would fill the public mind for many days; many highly unpleasant bits of evidence were to be presented, and many innocent people, called as witnesses, were to undergo disagreeable notoriety.

Then, at the last minute, Mrs. West's lawyers induced her to plead guilty. The trial was avoided.

Thus the state not only was saved the expense of a trial. It was spared an extended, unsavory spectacle. The lawyers are to be thanked.

This space is dedicated to a paragraph that would have been bright and interesting if a sudden gust of spring fever hadn't swept across the office.

All things that go into a cake were soon poured in. "For goodness sake," said Coppy as he watched the fun, "I really never knew that sugar, butter, flour and spice are things that make a cake so nice. I surely hope that I will have a piece when we are through."

"Don't worry," said the baker man. "The cake is big. You bet you can. There'll surely be plenty, so that everyone can eat. Now then, you've worked with all your might, I hope that all things turn out right. It will have a treat."

And, all this time wee Clowny stood and stirred the mixture up real good. The spoon he used was very large, and hard for him to hold. "Oh, let me try it for a while," said Coppy. This made Clowny smile. "Go right ahead," he answered. "We'll soon pour it in the mould."

The baker then said, "I've a plan. We may as well do all we can to make this cake taste like the best that you have ever had. Let's crack some nuts and put them in. Now, here they are, so let's begin." The Tinies started cracking them, which made the baker glad.

Right soon they had the nuts all shelled, and then the cake dough slowly swelled as Coppy poured them in and then began to stir some more. The baker said, "I think it best that little Coppy take a rest. I'll finish up the stirring till the cake is set to pour."

Then, in a little while he cried, "All right, now, gather by my side, and you shall see me pour it." Very close the Tinies ran. The bowl of dough was lifted high. The Tinies heaved a happy sigh, then cheered. Mister Baker poured it slowly in the pan.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dearest Mom:
Maybe you did read my mind right about Billy and his presents but truth compels me to admit that I was not pulling any wool over my own eyes. I haven't been married very long, 'tis true, but I learned right away that husbands are quick to take advantage of any little excuse to do a Houdini on the ball and chain now and then.

For this reason I've got to drop Billy. But it isn't because there's anything wrong in his beautiful affection for me. It's a sacrifice I've got to make to Alan's ridiculous jealousy. As you say, I can't insist that he keep his record clean as a dutiful husband unless I break with Billy. But it isn't fair. Billy thinks I'm a saint. And I'm sure that any girl who calls a man "Old Fruit" isn't thinking of him in saintly terms. So, to put a stop to that affair I've got to wound the feelings of a darling boy who is as harmless as a baby. It's perfectly disgusting, but what's the use? Alan can't see that it isn't a fifty-fifty proposition at all. Now I think I've been pretty honest about my motive. But I can't yet see that it isn't more harmful for Alan to get letters from a girl who is old enough to know what she is doing when writing to a married man than for me to receive little notes from a boy who's passing through that stage where flappers bore him.

I've told Billy that Florence is older than she really is and that I think she is secretly married. That ought to intrigue him, don't you think? If they fall hard enough for each other maybe Billy'd forget me and Florence'd forget Kenneth Oates. Everything would be jake then.

I'm going down in a little while to meet Florence at the station. Billy's going to drive the car for me because I can't get through the traffic in that part of town. Besides I want him and Florence to meet when there isn't an audience around to interfere with their getting acquainted. I can't ask him to the apartment unless there's a party going on. Maybe Alan will kick even then but if Florence is any kind of a fast worker she'll soon have Alan sympathizing with me.

I thought I'd see what Florence can do before I tell Billy everything is off. Don't want to break his heart if it isn't necessary.

Lovingly,
MARYE.

NEXT: Alan remonstrates.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Our Invisible Ally. (Read 11 Kings 6:8-17.) Memory Verse: Behold the mountain was full of horses and chariots. (11 Kings 6:17.)

The prophet's servant could not see the horses and chariots. He saw only the hosts of Syria and was frightened. But Elisha saw the host in the sky. Every religious man sees such things all the while. The skies are full of waiting reinforcements. Spiritual reserves are ready to hand to supplement his inadequate powers. It is the heart of our belief in God. There is an invisible ally on the field of battle. There is a spirit of goodwill in the natural and moral forces of the universe. "Most men," writes Sir Francis Younghusband, "and particularly men of action, are deeply conscious of the presence of some Unseen Force at work in the world, and what they have felt has filled them with a conviction that the power makes for righteousness." Such a conviction makes one feel equal to anything that may happen to him.

EXAMINATION OF STAINS REWARDS TAILOR IN MICH.

Saw Oil in Puddle so He Sold His Shop and Bought Land

Muskegon, Mich.—(AP)—Almost overnight, Muskegon has become an oil boom town.

Two wells are spouting the black fluid, one at the rate of 300 barrels a day. A third is roaring gas into the air, and a score of rigs are tapping the sand-blown land around here, some of which could have been bought a year ago for $1 an acre.

The story behind the boom, which has brought riches to a few toil-weary farmers who had despaired of ever eking a living from the unhopeful soil, lies in the tenacity of a tailor.

Four years ago Stanley Danihof, who pressed pants and sewed suits in Muskegon, noticed an oily stain on a puddle of water on the lowlands near his home outside of Muskegon. That got him to thinking about oil.

He began to read up on the early history of Muskegon. He found that the early settlers had sunk many salt wells, and the histories related that often the forefather would strike oil. This angered them, because it was salt, not oil, that they were after, and they would abandon efforts or plug up the hole.

Danihof decided to take a crack at the thing. He gave up his tailor shop, and some of his neighbors laughed at him, for it had been a paying proposition.

The company Danihof organized today owns the two producing wells. If he desired, the former tailor might now distribute pressing shops as gifts to his friends.

Charles Reeths, who for years struggled with the recalcitrant soil and finally gave up and got a job in an automobile factory, owns the land on which the two wells are located.

He gets an eighth of the revenue, and now he rides in his own automobile on the road from home over which he once walked lamely to work.

The Figgie well is the gasser, and it is spouting natural gas into the air at the rate of 4,553,000 cubic feet a day.

The producing wells started to flow in December and shortly Muskegon hotels were filled with the ebb and flow of the usual crowd that follows oil.

R. A. Smith, state geologist, is hopeful that the boom will develop greater proportions. Two dusters have been struck, but the drills are biting daily into new locations.

Nebraskans to Mark

Fort McPherson Site

North Platte, Neb.—(AP)—The site of Fort McPherson will be designated by a stone marker. Funds from Lincoln county, who hope for it have been contributed by citizenship will be given to commemorating other historic spots in this section which mark the country's forward thrust into and beyond the Rockies.

In 1868, when the terminus of the Union Pacific railroad was at North Platte, Fort McPherson was an important military post, but it has since been abandoned and the land constituting the reservation all has reverted to private ownership save 20 acres retained by the government for cemetery purposes. Road improvements are projected that will bring the old fort site and the national cemetery within easy access from the Lincoln Highway.

The marker may serve to indicate the line of the old California Trail at its intersection of the public road south of the cemetery and west of the fort site.

Several patriotic societies have petitioned for a governmental memorial at the National Cemetery, where are buried the remains of 1,112 soldiers and pioneer men, women and children, white and Indians. Of the number, 517 are classed as unknown, the fates and fates of the stream of humanity that poured through the Platte Valley in the early days.

THE SALISBURY DIET

Years ago, when I was a confirmed vegetarian, it was my good fortune to come across a book written by Dr. Salisbury, an English physician. This book outlined a treatment for disease which struck a new note in the study of dietetics. The writer claimed to cure practically every ailment by placing the patient on a dietetic regime, consisting of ground round steak and raw vegetables. The claims he put out, were so startling that I immediately started experimenting according to his system to find out what there could be in his claims.

I was agreeably surprised to see such diseases as Rheumatism and Bright's Disease disappear rapidly under this strange treatment which was so diametrically opposite to the accepted dietetic procedure in such cases.

By careful, unprejudiced investigation I soon discovered the reason this revolutionary diet yielded such remarkable results. First of all, it is a very simple diet and that alone accounts for a great deal of its success. Also, all excess food fermentation is avoided in the absence of any starches or sugars. Even with the large amount of protein food consumed, no harmful effects are observed. The withdrawal of all foods having a tendency to produce flatulence immediately relieves one from the distress of being a "walking gas factory." If other diet systems have not helped you, try this Salisbury regime for a week and watch the good results.

Three times daily eat one-fourth of a pound of Salisbury steak with either sliced tomatoes or raw celery as desired. One half hour before each meal drink one pint of warm water, also sip one pint of warm water while eating the meal.

Prepare this steak by grinding through a meat grinder only the red, lean part of round steak from which all fat and gristle has been removed. This is more palatable than Hamburger steak as the absence of fat gives it an entirely different flavor than when the fat is left in and makes it more wholesome. Make into thin patties and bake in the oven for about five minutes or pan broil in a dry hot pan without grease.

After you have used this diet for about a week, return to your usual well-balanced diet and you will find many symptoms, such as flatulence, have disappeared.

This diet can be repeated occasionally with marked benefit. The results will teach you the great dietetic truth that excess fermentation of food is responsible for many symptoms and ailments caused by indiscriminate eating and wrong mixtures of even good foods.

GERMANS SEEK REMEDY

FOR TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Berlin, Germany.—(AP)—Municipal traffic experts, alarmed at the increasing number of street accidents, are seeking some method of eliminating skidding.

A new kind of anti-skid device is being tried out on Berlin streets, a roller placed midway behind the back axle and operated by a lever from the driver's seat—by hand on light cars and by compressed air on heavy cars. On slippery ground, the lever's release presses the roller down hard on the pavement.

It is claimed that a car fitted with this roller cannot skid, nor did it on the slippery wet road on which it was tried out.

from stomach distress to comfort in this way

Acid—that's the trouble. A lack of acid balance in the stomach. The remarkable effect of re-establishing that balance

YOU eat—then in a little while, stomach gas and distress. That's the daily story of 8 in 10 of the people of today. The refinement of modern diet, doctors tell us, is a chief reason.

Now modern science has discovered a new way to correct it. A way based upon the method most widely prescribed by ethical medical authority in the world today.

This offers you a test. Not a "patent medicine" or a "cure-all." But a product based upon high scientific authority. Will you use the coupon, and accept a bottle free to try?

Lack of ACID balance—that's the trouble

You must be in balance

Now it is known that a lack of acid balance is the cause of most stomach discomforts.

That means an abnormal acid condition of your stomach. Acid which forms from food fermentation, and that fosters scores of stomach and systemic disorders. You must get back into correct acid balance. Old-time methods, purges, cathartics, etc., took only bowel evacuation into count. And that is where they failed.

To correct that condition, the world of medicine turned to milk of magnesia. No other remedy known to science had its remarkable, its often amazing effect.

But that, too, was found to fall short in certain important ways.

Now new methods based on modern research

Now from a laboratory of international note comes a new way—magnesia plus other important factors.

It acts in many ways, yet at once. It neutralizes the acids. It aids in re-establishing correct acid balance. Then relieves the stomach of its gas.

To scores of stomach sufferers, this new method, for this one use alone, is throwing a fresh meaning on life.

Other important effects

It relieves most trying cases of constipation. It clears the intestinal tract of its poisons.

It combats absorptions into the blood of toxic poisons from the intestinal tract which keep people below normal and constantly ailing.

It is not habit forming. Even when taken every day. A method in safe contrast to habit-forming pills and drugs.

It relieves indigestion quickly—amazingly. And is a delight to take. That is due to its minted property. The property no other milk of magnesia embodies.

The cool of mint

And this same property gives it the inviting coolness of mint.

Thus it is a refreshing change from the flatness of plain magnesia.

Children love to take it. Every mother knows what this means.

A bottle Free—Obtain it

OFFICERS FACE JAIL
Chicago, March 29—(AP)—The president, treasurer and clerk of Cicero, adjoining Chicago, were held guilty of contempt of court by the Appellate Court today, and ordered to jail.
The officers, Joseph Z. Klenha, Peter E. Gieldzinski and Frank

Housak, can escape the confinement by paying $8,688 to a street improvement company which claimed that amount for work it had done.
A circuit judge ordered the money paid in Feb. 1927. When the town officers failed to make payment he cited them for contempt. They appealed.

—The subscription price of the Dixon Evening Telegraph by mail in Lee and adjoining counties is $5.00, outside $7.00.

PLEASE MAKE YOUR CHECKS PAYABLE TO THE DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH WHEN PAYING YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

End of Picketing in Ohio Mine Field Seen

Steubenville, O., March 29—(AP)—The end of mass picketing in the eastern Ohio coal fields was seen today by Stanley Borthwick, United States Marshal for the southern district of Ohio, as the result of a "peace conference" held here last night by mine union officials, pickets and representatives of the state and national governments.

At the meeting, called by Borthwick at the request of Col. Don L. Caldwell, national guard observer, between 50 and 60 law enforcement officers and representatives of the union gathered informally around a conference table and arrived at an understanding of the terms of anti-picketing injunctions affecting the mines.

The injunction was granted last November by Judge Benson W. Hough of Columbus. It provided that not more than three pickets should be stationed in each picket camp and that the camps were to be not closer than 300 feet along the roads leading to the mine properties.

Paper Backs Premier Against the Vatican

Rome, March 29—(AP)—Il Tevere, strong Fascist newspaper, today hailed Premier Mussolini's projected reform of the legal status of the organizations of youth, the Balilla and the Avanguardista, as necessary in view of the criticism by Pope Pius of the Fascist training of youth.

Premier Mussolini said that 80,000 members of the organizations should be inducted into the regular Fascist party. Yesterday's Fascist newspapers interpreted the Premier's words as meaning that he was determined on the "Fascistization" of Italian youth, with the state controlling education.

Il Tevere said the Pope's speech to the Diocesan Board of Rome "has disoriented Catholic consciences" but it "does not disorient the state which has a duty and will fulfill it. This corresponds to its action in history and it would be denying its own existence to accept discussion of its vital manifestations."

HALT AND BLIND IN U. S. SEEK "HEALER" IN MEXICO

San Antonio, Tex.—(AP)—The influence of "El Nino Fidencio," healer and mystic, whose reported cures have drawn a colony of 15,000 lame, halt and blind to Espinazo, state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, has extended into the United States.

Pilgrims from San Antonio and other cities near the international border are joining the colony. Among those going from here was Emil Myers, former policeman, who became totally blind years ago and was pronounced incurable. He expected to wait several weeks before being able to obtain an audience with the healer.

Tales that have drifted across the border say that Fidencio cures by the laying on of hands and by drenching his patients with a brew of herbs.

Passion Week Services—
7:30 Wednesday. Sermon subject, "In the Garden."

7:30 Friday. Sermon subject "The Crucifixion or the Meaning of the Cross."

The annual meeting held on Wednesday evening was one of real fellowship in the Lord. About 115 enjoyed the supper and the business session following. Very encouraging reports were given by the various officials. The pastor gave a report of the work of the Sunday school and the church since its beginning in 1892 and revealed the fact that the present Sunday school attending membership is the largest the Grace church has ever had and the church membership has reached 220. There are 319 scholars including the officers and teachers and a total enrollment with cradle roll and home department 348. The following officials were elected: Trustee—O. E. Missman. Class leader—H. J. Hughes; Asst. Class Leaders—A. W. Hartman and Mrs. Brandfleher. Pledges were received for the new year's work. Any member or friend who desires to pledge to the work for the coming year is asked to see one of the stewards as soon as possible. Our annual conference session this year will be held in Aurora, Ill., April 18. Mr. A. W. Hartman has been elected as delegate. Remember the Passion Week services. Special Easter program April 8th. "He is not here but is risen as He said." Matt. 28:6.

A welcome and a message for all.

Dixon Store is Part of Independent Chain

Tomorrow F. C. Sproul opens his new store at his old place of business. He is now affiliated with the Red & White Chain Stores Corporation of Buffalo, New York, the second largest grocery organization in this country.

The store is rearranged according to the Red & White chain store standards and the goods have been re-priced according to the popular priced chain store mark up. These prices are not necessarily cash and carry prices. He is allowed by the Red & White Corporation to make delivery and give limited credit to responsible parties. Patrons can continue to order groceries by phone and yet pay no more than cash and carry chains are asking. This service is given cheerfully and without charge.

The new store arrangement will enable him to serve customers more quickly and efficiently than before. Most of the shelving is easily accessible and patrons are to inspect the merchandise upon it and wait upon themselves.

Senate in Upheaval Over Accusations

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—The senate continues to show signs of political upheavals as a result of attempts now to link the Wilson administration with questionable oil leasing.

Meanwhile, the Senate investigating committee, now engaged in attempts to trace the fourth beneficiary of the Liberty bonds profits of the Continental Trading Company and all of these securities received by Harry F. Sinclair, is running down further leads before resuming its inquiry.

The third offensive in ten days launched yesterday by Senator Robinson, Indiana republican, in an effort to show that Democrats were equally to blame with the Republicans for the whole oil trouble, brought a heated denial from Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy under President Wilson, at Raleigh, N. C., that the 1912-20 Democratic administration had anything whatever to do with oil reserve leasing except in a very minor way.

The Indianan previously had attempted to show that Governor Smith of New York had received large donations from Sinclair to advance his campaign years ago and this developed a sharp denial from the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Omitting reference to Smith yesterday, Robinson charged that the "wholesale influencing of federal officials, including Cabinet officers and their important assistants by private oil interests was in full bloom under the Wilson administration and that the exhaustion of the nation's and the navy's supply of oil was already well under way due to the democratic acts of both legislation and administration."

Two Men Shot Wed. Night Mysteriously

Chicago, March 29.—(AP)—A young printer was slain and a tailor was fatally wounded in two separate shootings which puzzled police today. In neither case did preliminary inquiry establish a motive.

Both crimes were deliberate. The printer, Jasper Montalbano, was just stepping from his automobile in front of his sister's home last night when one of two men who were in another machine fired four charges from a shotgun at close range. Montalbano's mother and sister found his almost decapitated body on the sidewalk.

So far as police could learn Montalbano had no gang connections. An hour later two men approached Joseph Sakalauskas, a tailor, and asked him why he didn't sell them alcohol.

"You have the wrong person," don't sell alcohol," Sakalauskas told police he replied, whereupon the men opened fire with revolvers.

Good Thoughts for Good People

And he not conformed to this world: but he transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

Paul.

We are either progressing or retrograding all the while; there is no such thing as remaining stationary in this life.

James Freeman Clarke.

Who can tell What golden hours, with what full hands may be Waiting you in the distance?

Tennyson.

Age is not all decay; it is the ripening, the swelling, of the fresh life within that withers and bursts the husk.

George MacDonald.

An inch of progress is worth more than a yard of fault-finding.

Booker T. Washington.

It has been said that people become old not so much because age overtakes them, as because they give up freshness and activity; perhaps one of the chief causes for the frequent incapacity of advanced age is a tendency to entomb one's energies and interests within the limit of one's achievements, a mental hardening, a refusing to keep abreast of the times and to progress.

STATEMENT

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF THE 13th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

I am a candidate for Delegate to the National Republican Nominating Convention at Kansas City in June.

My home is on my farm southwest of Polo, in Ogle County, where I have resided since my birth fifty-five years ago. For thirty-three years I operated the farm. At the present time it is operated by a tenant. I am a member of the Ogle County Farm Bureau and have been since its organization.

For ten years I was a member of the County Board of Supervisors during which time I served one year as chairman. I am now Superintendent of Highways of Ogle County for nearly fifteen years. I was twice elected President of the State Association of County Superintendents of Highways.

Frank O. Lowden of Ogle County is my choice of the candidates for President and if I am elected I will support him as long as his name is before the convention. My second choice is some western man who has a knowledge of and in sympathy with the problems confronting the west at the present time.

In 1900 I was a delegate to the State Republican Convention. I have been a Precinct Committeeman for years.

I am making the above statements so that the voter may know qualifications and where my sympathies are.

Two Delegates are to be selected from the four persons seeking the position. You are entitled to vote for two.

I will appreciate your support. My name is third on the list.

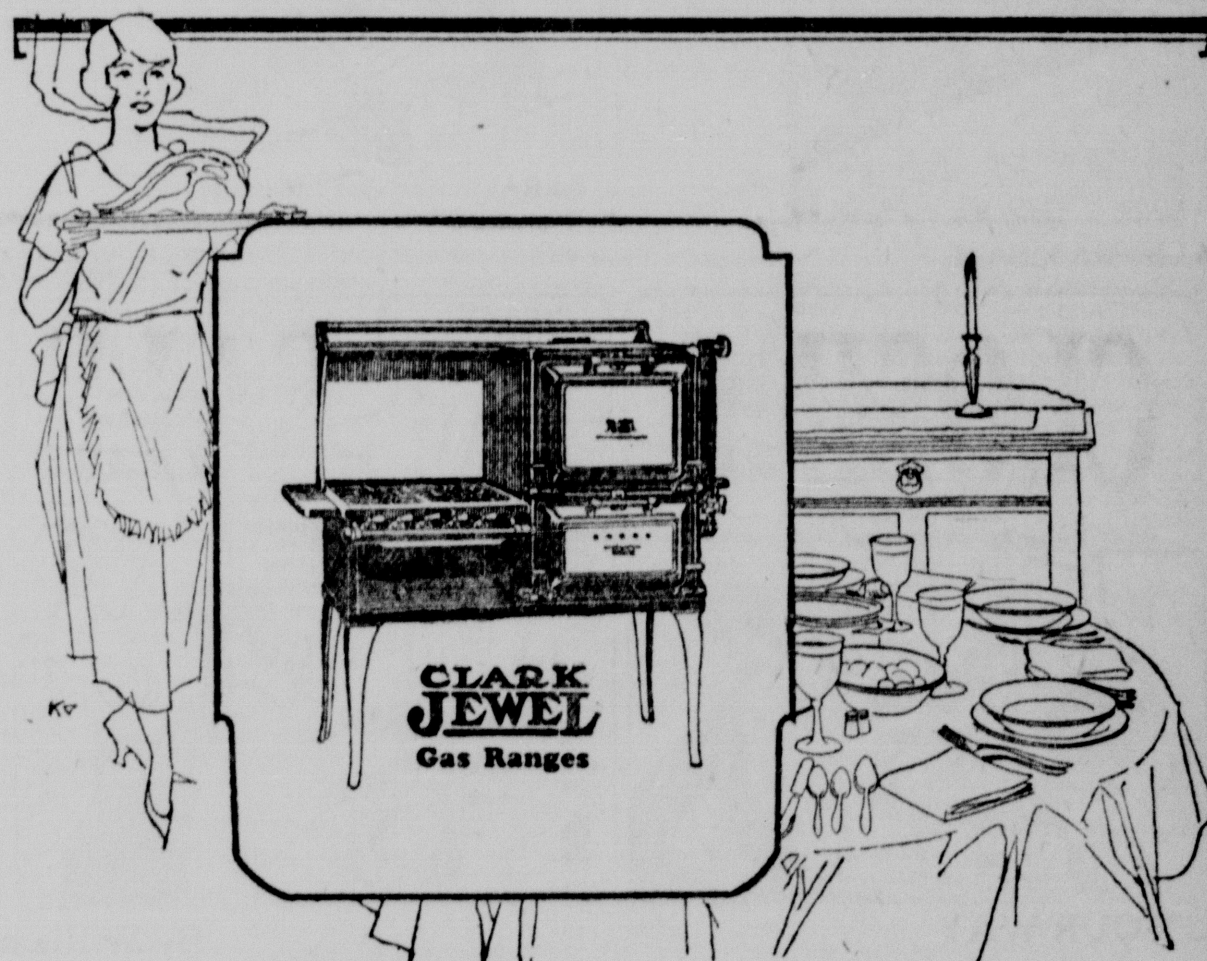

Respectfully yours,

ALEX. ANDERSON

LETTER GOLF
NOT SO DIFFERENT!
It's not such a far cry after all from MEAT to HASH. At least not in letter golf for the change can be made in five jumps. Perhaps you can beat the solution on page 11.

MEAT

THE RULES
1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
2—You can change only one letter at a time.
3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.
One solution is printed on page 11.

PADDOCK AFTER VICTORY WHEN HE GOES OVER

Sprint Star is Serious in Preparations for Olympiad

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, March 30—(AP)—The fastest feet that even spurned a cinder track are just as fleet as ever after fifteen seasons of record-smashing. That is the story of Charley Paddock, the blonde meteor of California, and he intends to prove his point by cracking more speed marks and winding up his Olympic career with at least one triumph at Amsterdam this summer.

The yellow-haired son of the far west, who fired the opening gun of his come-back campaign at Houston last Saturday, by stripping three-fifths of a second from his own 14-second record for 740 yards, is in New York for two weeks on business. But his pleasure while here will be to sprint wherever and whenever possible, against any available opposition.

Needs Competition
Competition alone can give the razor edge necessary to stand off the sprinting youngsters now barring Paddock's path to his third straight Olympiad. To gain this, Paddock has conspired with the only other dash veteran ever to present Uncle Sam abroad—Jackson V. Scholz. They plan to race each other into the finest shape of their colorful careers.

Limping about the Columbia University dressing room with two "tender" achilles tendons, the chubby, dynamic speed king tossed one arm about Scholz' slender shoulders. They had just finished almost an hour of dummy sprints for the benefit of a battery of cameramen.

"We want to go back," Charley announced, "for one more crack at those foreigners. In our two trips abroad we've only won a single Olympic championship apiece. We want more."

Paddock Proud
Paddock is mighty proud of the fact, however, that he has scored more points for the United States in Olympic games than any other athlete now in competition. And strangely enough, the veteran Scholz, with the hair thinning slightly on the top of his head, stands second.

Charley has scored 241-2 points, he figured, with one first place in the 100 metre event, a second in the 200, and a quarter section of the sprint relay laurels, in the 1920 games. He finished fifth in the 100 and second in the 200 at the Paris games four years later. First place counted ten points, second place five, third four and so on.

Scholz gathered 201-2 points in a showing almost as good. The only challengers for the sprinters' scoring supremacy are Bud Houser, husky weight man, and Harold Osborn, jumping and all-around star, both of whom copped a pair of firsts in the 1924 Olympiad.

Fears Germans
Paddock believes that the German sprinting quartet of Houben, Kornig, Schille and Miller, will be the team America must beat in the 1928 dashes. Kornig, especially, he says, is a star who can turn in record-equalling time for the 100 meters.

"Why I beat that fellow in a race in Germany last year and he ran as if inspired," Charley said. "He is so temperamental that he works himself into a frenzy before a big race. Blood was running from his nose and he frothed at the mouth as he ran. On one of his good days, Kornig probably would take any one of us."

Charley still fancies the "Leaping Lena" finish at the tape that has made him such a colorful performer even though the usefulness of that final leap for the worsted always has been questioned.

The Californian feels that it is too late now to teach the old dog new tricks.

As for the men he and Scholz must mangle to win berths on the Olympic squad, Paddock has some pertinent remarks to make. Fred Alderman, the Illinois A. C. crack who chased him to the new 140 yard record, isn't the best dash man in the country as Charley once thought. Alderman, it seems, is better from 220 yards to a quarter mile.

Borah Burned Out
Too much competition in "prep" school has almost burned out Charley Borah, the University of Southern California wraith, and Paddock fears he never will be consistently good again. Borah was clocked in 9.8-10 seconds for the hundred yards while a student at Andover Academy. Aubrey Bracey, youthful Rice Institute star, who turned in 9.5-0 seconds for a hundred in the rice relays, has a world of speed but hardly enough experience.

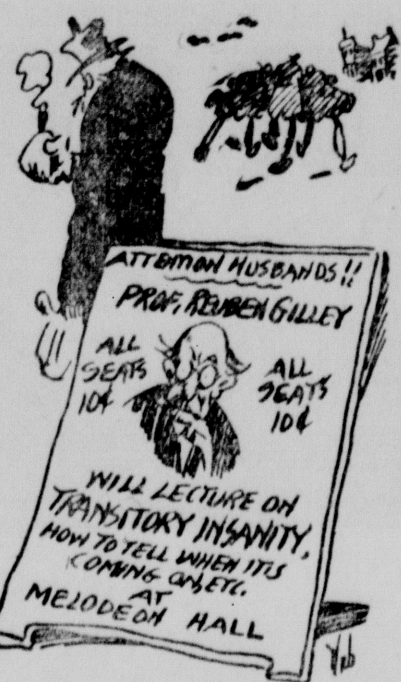

Scholz perked up his ears as Paddock pointed out the strength and weakness of America's sprinters. "Say," he said, "maybe there's a chance for the old man yet. They might get sentimental and take me over. I don't know, though. Do you know I won my first title back in 1911, the 85-pound, championship of California? I ran the hundred that day in 12.4-5 in sneakers."
